

CAPTCHA PROJECT - SERVER 1 SOFTWARE 1

A CAPTCHA (an acronym for "Completely Automated Public Turing test to tell Computers and Humans Apart") is a type of challenge-response test used in computing to determine whether or not the user is human. The term was coined in 2003 by Luis von Ahn, Manuel Blum, Nicholas J. Hopper, and John Langford.

We are using Captchas in our day today life. Eg: While creating a gmail account, Facebook account, Net banking, IRCTC
